On 02/13/17 at approximately 1803 hrs I, Ofc. Romeo #887 of the Chattanooga Police Dept. responded to a miscellaneous complaint regarding suspicious phone calls at 1110 Markey St. Suite 121 (Tupelo Honey Café).

Upon arrival Police spoke with the complaining party, Beth Caron. Ms. Caron told Police that several years ago she fired an employee (Reginald Dwight) who then became disgruntled and criminal charges ended up being pursued. Ms. Caron's complaint this day was that Mr. Dwight had called the store several times (three or four) over the weekend. He was unable to make contact with Ms. Caron or any other staff member. Mr. Dwight left several voice messages but the system deletes these messages after a certain amount of time has passed. Police were told that as of now the messages were non-threatening. Mr. Dwight called from a blocked number, Police were unable to contact him for questioning on the matter.

Ms. Caron requested a Police report should incidents continue and/or worsen.
