She was told it was illegal to have the goal system in the roadway and that I was writing her a note when she opened the door to speak with me so that they knew it was illegal and that public works could be notified to remove it if the violation continues. She stated her sons use it to play basketball in the street and that she would have it removed. I then went to leave and she went back in. As I began to pull off I observed her standing back on the front porch so I asked if she needed anything else at which time she said "no" that she was speaking to her husband and I pulled away at that point.
